

IS 201 ~ SERVICE LEARNING SITES (2009)

Note: bold = site confirmed, orange = NEW site confirmed

 = Student designated to be the lead contact with a site for students in both sections in cases where there is more than one volunteer. This student will make the initial contact with the site, copying the other students, to arrange to meet with the site supervisor/contact and conduct the service learning activities.

Updated 4/23/09

Note on student-selected sites (+): Students may arrange to work with sites of their own choosing with approval from the instructor. Sites should be ones where the environment would either be new to the students (i.e., you have very little knowledge of the type of organization and/or its client/community base) or it is a community-based or non-profit organization (information, social service, government, cultural, educational, etc.) which needs assistance (i.e., they don't have the resources to achieve all their priorities or they rely on volunteer base to implement many of their activities) AND you will be doing work that is information-related (i.e., use your IS skills or knowledge). Please provide a potential organization information about site responsibilities (e.g., coordinate/supervise/facilitate student activities, communicate with class instructor with any concerns, participate in evaluation of the service-learning experience) which you can print out from the class website <http://www.gseis.ucla.edu/faculty/chu/edc>
