

* Data Gathered from UCLA Financial Office

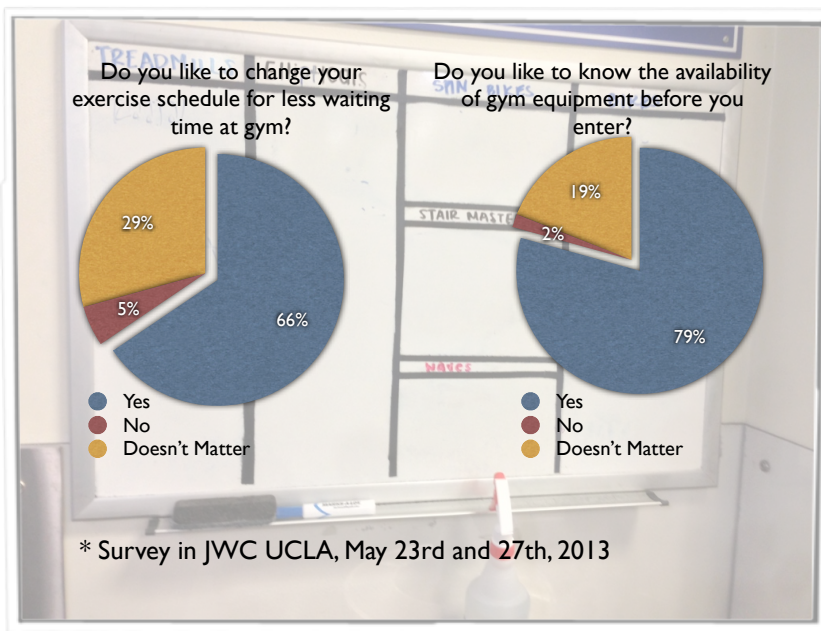

According to the statistics of average waiting time at UCLA John Wooden Center, the time people spend on waiting for gym equipment is not evenly distributed all over the day. At specific point people tend to wait longer than common period, while at other points there's no need for waiting.

The total number of newly enrolled freshmen has been increasing for years in UCLA. But in the meantime, we see decrease in the budget used for recreation facility. It is important for gyms especially in budget limit to come up with solutions to improve the efficiency on the usage of equipment.
